

City Of Green Isle

--NOTICE--

As many of you may have heard, we are experiencing some water line freezing to the homes. In an effort to prevent this from happening at your residence you may want to have a continuous flow of water to your home by opening a faucet and allow it to run continuously. A stream the size of a pencil seems to be the most common that is recommended.

The city will adjust the next utility bill accordingly. For example, we may look at the usage that was used at this time a year ago and bill based on that information. Or we may look at the past two bills and average that. Whichever route is chosen, we will try to be fair. The main thing is to eliminate the freezing if possible.

If you decide to go this route, I ask that you please contact me and let me know so that I know that you are a resident that must be looked at on the next billing.
